June 19, 2008

Collagen is one of the things to do if you want to get rid of wrinkles and reduce fine lines and age spots. Until now if you wanted to get a little collagen pucker up, you had to go get an injection. But why go for a shot when you can drink Collagen at home? Yep, we said drink. Toki is a drinkable liquid that lets you get your collagen right out of the bottle. "Toki reintroduces a youthful look and feel to skin with an extraordinary ingredient base that includes the moisture-rich retention of Hyaluronic and Dermantanic acids. These acids replenish skin from within, and combine with Collagen Peptide and Vitamin C to restore a more youthful quality." Pricing begins at $150. Now it's just a matter of time till they'll be serving Botox lattes at Starbucks.
