Youthful Girlie Giveaway

It's that time again. It's a Girlie Giveaway! And this product is one of the most interesting skin care products around. It's called Toki and it is the first natural collagen drink clinically shown to reduce fine lines and age spots.

Now I know what you are saying, "drinkable collagen?" Yes, indeed and it is basically a nutritional therapy that is good for your face and whole body. It contains essential nutrients such as Active Collagen, AdvaCAL Calcium, and Dermantanic acids. It is safe, it is natural and it is fat free.

An even more interesting is Toki was also subject to an eight-week-long study of 32 women aged 35-65, published in JANA (Journal of the American Nutraceutical Association) in 2002. The study found statistically significant improvements in wrinkles, sagging, puffiness and overall facial aging over the course of 8 weeks!

So for all you out there who wish you could have more youthful, porcelain skin I am offering a jar of this awesome Toki powder formula to 5 lucky winners!

Here's the deal:

1. This contest is open to U.S. residents only.
2. Comment to this post for an entry into the contest!
 - a. For an additional entry, visit <http://www.888ageless.com/> and comment back here mentioning 2 things you read that was interesting.
 - b. For 2 additional entries (that's 3 entries!) comment and place the "Girlie Giveaway" badge below on your blog letting others know about it.
3. The contest will run from today, Friday 7/18 through Friday, 8/1 to midnight.
4. The winners will be chosen at random and announced 8/2. Good luck!
